Washington. May 12.—"No more der at the present time," said Secretary of the company, and remained in that position until the formation of the United States Steel Company.

Mr. Farrell said he handled the entire business of the steel company, both in buying and selling the raw material, other than its legal and financial "management."

The witness said the Interest of the steel company both in the Washington officials to do so at States of the steel company both in buying and selling the raw material, other than its legal and financial "management."

The witness said the International Harvester Company was not a large buyer from the Steel Corporation, perhaps 10 per cent of its entire needs. Its annual requirement is about 150,000 tons, and some of this it produces. The Illinois Steel Company, a subsidiary of the Steel Corporation, partly supplied its needs. Some years the company did not sell it a pound of steel.

"Did the Carnegie Steel Company sell the International Harvester Company any of its products?" asked counsel.

COOK TO FRONT AGAIN

Demands That IIIs Claims to Pole Discovery Be Investigated.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Washington, May 12.—Charging government officials with a "propaganda of character assassination." ridiculing the National Geographic Society, Dr. Frederick A. Cook has written to President Wilson, asking that a commission of polar explorers be appointed to investigate his claim and that of Rear-Admiral Peary to the discovery of the North Pole.

"The future of my children demands an exposition of the unfair methods of the arm-chair geographers in Washington," says Dr. Cook, in a letter dated Chicago. "However do not ask the administration to defend me or my posterity, but do ask that the men who draw a salary from the national treasury be made answerable for a propaganda of character assassination. Among these is Professor Wills Moore and others of the son the so-called National Geographic Society.

"This society is a private organization used mostly for political purposes; for $2 per year a college professor or a street sweeper becomes with equal facility a mational geographer."

Dr. Cook suggests as members of the commission such mon as General A. W. Greeley, U. S. A.; Capitin Otto Sverdrup, of Norway, and Professor Georges Lecointe, of Belgium.

Senator James Hamitten Lewis, of Illinois, has received five petitions, signed by about 150 names, asking him to support such an investigation.
